Evaluating Your Business Idea

These questions will help you and your business advisor examine your business idea and determine your potential for success before you spend time and money developing a business plan. Your responses will provide insight into your market, competitors, start-up costs, sales, expenses and financing needs. Your honest answers will help identify areas of strength and concern. They will also help determine if you are ready to take the next step and need to re-evaluate your business idea. This is only a beginning and should not be considered as the final word when determining the feasibility of a new business venture.

By working through this relatively short checklist, you will be able to determine if your idea has the potential to create a successful business. The question you are attempting to answer is “Can my business sell enough products or services to make enough of a profit to be successful?”. You will then be able to make an educated decision about going ahead as you planned or making some critical changes to allow you to reach your goals.

1. Describe what you are selling and how it will benefit your customers. Explain how your product or service is different from the competition. Answer the question, “Why will people buy from me?”
